EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Nobody goes the extra mile,' complains my nephew's wife, Dolores, referring, among others, to bureaucrats, domestic help and autorickshaw drivers. Evidently, not everyone she encounters endorses the dictum of George S. Patton, who served in the United States Army during World War II. 'Always do more than is required of you,' said the General.

It is unlikely that many heeded his advice. Those who go beyond the call of duty are rare, numbering, perhaps, individuals who hope to attain success by pushing themselves to the limit. Actors, for instance, might lose or gain weight, acquire incredible skills and endure considerable discomfort, in an effort to shine on screen. 'Film-stars have been known to go the extra mile to get into the skin of a character,' I recently read in an article.

When it comes to exerting themselves on behalf of their fellow human beings, however, people generally stick to exactly what is expected of them, and are reluctant to expend supplementary time and energy. 'They look as if they have been asked to part with a kidney,' says Dolores, describing the response to her requests for additional assistance.

Two thousand years ago, faces on a hillside must have worn something close to that shocked expression, when a preacher urged a crowd of listeners to give unstintingly of themselves. Like several idioms in English, 'Go the extra mile' has its origin in the Bible. In this case, it derives from a precept of Jesus that was extremely hard to follow.

He had in mind a law whereby, under Roman rule, a Jew could be ordered to carry the pack (heavy with military gear) of a soldier stationed in his land. The person thus compelled would have to drop whatever he was doing and trudge along with the load. The distance decreed was a mile, and we can only imagine how horrified the attentive audience would have been when Jesus declared, 'If anyone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles.'

Fortunately, each of us has a faithful few in our lives who, with no compulsion to do so, are willing to shoulder our baggage, emotional or otherwise, should the need arise. Let us, in turn, be ready to go the extra mile!

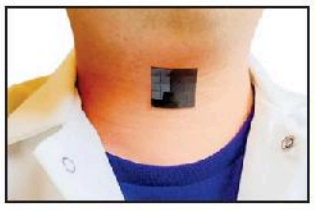
Throat patch helps people speak without vocal cords



Los Angeles: Researchers at the University of California recently created a self-powered throat patch that uses machine learning to translate muscle movements into speech, helping people to speak without vocal cords.

Jun Chen, an assistant professor of bioengineering at the University of California, Los Angeles, came up with the idea for a non-invasive speech-enabling device after feeling his vocal cords get tired as a result of lecturing for several hours at a time. He began thinking of ways of helping a person speak without using their vocal cords, and with the help of his colleagues at the University of California, he designed an innovative patch that sticks to the user's throat and uses AI technology to decode their muscle movements into speech. The lightweight device is resistant to skin sweat and also harnesses the user's muscle movements to generate electricity, which means that it doesn't require a battery to operate.

This city plays classical music to keep youths away

Espoo: For the past few years, Police in the Finnish city of Espoo have been employing an intriguing tactic to keep youths from partying on a local beach – blasting classical music from loudspeakers.

There is no scientific evidence that young people have an aversion to classical music, but Police in Espoo swear that it works and they have been using this tactic for the last six years. The beach in Espoo's Haukilahti neighbourhood becomes a popular gathering for youths to party until late hours. Local authorities had tried other methods to disperse youths, but nothing worked. So, starting in early June, Police blast classical music from a couple of loudspeakers on the beach to keep youths from gathering there after sunset.

Street vendor numbers double in Mysuru city

MCC implements cutting-edge technology for street vendor identification and regulation

Mysuru, June 14 (RK&BCT)- From the financial year 2017-2018, the number of street vendors on various roads in Mysuru city has grown rapidly. In response, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has initiated measures to survey all individuals who have taken up street vending as a profession.

Data from MCC media releases show that in 2017-18, 1,856 street vendors were identified and given identity cards. In 2021-22, 1,560 vendors were identified, and currently, 3,416 vendors have been issued identity cards. MCC officers told Star of Mysore this morning that apart from 3,416 identified vendors, there are more than 4,000 vendors who are yet to be identified.

Shankaramma, one of the push-cart vendors, displaying her ID card and trade certificate opposite the K.R. Hospital this morning.

The MCC has launched a survey to identify new street vendors, utilising GPS locations and geo-fencing technologies for accurate tracking. Street vending licences with Quick Response (QR) codes and GPS-enabled vending licences and identity cards will be issued to facilitate the extension of facilities provided by the Union and State Governments under the Deendayal Antyodaya National Urban Livelihood Mission (DAY-NULM).

To facilitate street vendors to do business, exclusive vending zones have been set up at P&T Quarters at N.R. Mohalla near Bilal Masjid Road, New Kantharaj Raj Urs Road from Ballal Circle to Vedanta Hemmige Circle right side footpath, on MCC land at Bannimantap in front of St. Joseph's Hospital on Mysuru-Bengaluru Road and Saraswathipuram Swimming Pool Road.

(See VENDOR on page 9)

Action against non-local city vendors who do not follow rules

Officers and staff have been instructed to make them comply with rules else take action by initiating procedures for the seizure, disposal of goods and eviction of such street vendors.

Mysuru, June 14 (RK&BCT)- It has come to the notice of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) that many non-local street vendors belonging to other States are conducting business selling items like cane juice, musambi juice, panipuri, ice cream and candy across various locations, causing inconvenience to the public and traffic congestion.

In a press release, MCC Additional Commissioner said that this widespread activity poses significant challenges to maintain cleanliness and hygiene standards in the city. As the vendors are not adhering to the stipulated rules, it is difficult to bring them under control or regulate them. This, in turn, is a public health risk.

The MCC will take action against those operating without valid identity cards and trade certificates.

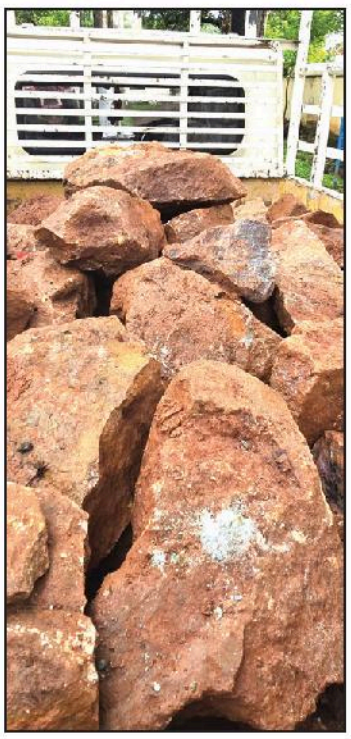
Three held in Kodagu for smuggling precious stones

2,500 kgs of precious stones worth lakhs of rupees were being transported from Madikeri to Mysuru



Kushalnagar, June 14 (AG& BCT) - In a significant operation, officials from the Kushalnagar Range Forest Office arrested three individuals involved in the illegal transportation of precious stones from the reserve forests in Madikeri Taluk to Mysuru. The operation also led to the seizure of the vehicles used in this illicit activity.

The arrests were made on early Tuesday at Kushalnagar vehicle check-post. During a routine check at 4 am, Forest Department staff signalled a pick-up vehicle (KA-21-C-6574) to stop, but the driver sped away, followed by an Alto car (KA-01-MD 1808). The Department personnel alerted Kushalnagar Range Forest Office and initiated a chase.

Both vehicles were intercepted at Periyapatna and three suspects were detained. Approximately 2,500 kg of precious stones, loaded onto the pick-up vehicle for transport to Mysuru, were confiscated. The stones, still in their raw form within rocks, have an estimated value running into lakhs of rupees once extracted.

The accused have been identified as M.G. Shivaprasad (35) from Ranipet, Madikeri, M.M. Jabir (40) from Mahadevapet, and M.A. Rizwan (45) from Azad Nagar, Madikeri.

The operation was conducted under the directives of Forest Officer Rathan Kumar and executed by Deputy Range Forest Officer Devaiah, Siddaramaiah Natikar, Talawar, Medappa and the Rapid Response Team's Dharmaraju. An FIR has been registered at Kushalnagar Range Forest Office under various Sections of the Forest Act.

This arrest highlights the persistent issue of illegal precious stone mining in the Western Ghats region. The pristine forests of Kodagu, particularly the Pushpagiri-Kadamakallu Range bordering Subramanya Forest, and Nishani Betta, are frequently targeted. Areas such as Bhagamandala, Karike, Sampaje, Koojimalai, Suttathmalai and Uppukala near Balugodu are prime targets.

Reports of illegal mining surfaced 15 years ago, revealing organised gangs extracting precious stones from the Pattighat Reserve Forest and smuggling them. Previously priced at Rs. 500 to Rs. 700 per kg, these stones now fetch Rs. 25,000 to Rs. 30,000 per kg, making smuggling highly lucrative.

Illegal stone mining spikes during the rainy season when drenched soil provides ideal conditions for digging. Locals assist in extracting these precious stones, which are then sold at a premium to luxury hotels, jewellery shops and spas.

Despite previous efforts to curb this illegal activity, including installing CCTV cameras inside the forests by former Western Ghats Conservation Task Force President Shantheyanda Ravi Kushalappa, the smuggling of precious stones continues unabated.

Ravi Kushalappa told Star of Mysore that the absence of stringent measures has allowed smuggling to thrive. "Smuggling is rampant and senior Forest Officers are aware of the damage. Smugglers cover extraction pits with tree branches and leaves to avoid detection. Unfortunately, this situation persists right under the nose of the Forest Department. I have obtained details about the seizure of the stones and gathered information from my sources. If no action is taken, I will fight against it to protect the Western Ghats from mining," he added.

Tiger found dead at Nagarahole after injuries in territorial fight

Mysuru, June 14 (MTY&KS)- A decomposed carcass of a tiger has been found in the forest area of Anechowkur Range in Nagarahole Tiger Reserve. Forest officials suspect that the tiger may have died from injuries sustained in a territorial fight with another tiger.

On June 11, while returning to the Anti-Poaching Camp after their regular patrol, Forest staff detected the stench of a dead animal in the Govindegowda Kandi region. Upon investigating, they discovered the decomposed body of a tiger and informed their superiors.

On June 12, Nagarahole DCF Harshakumar Chikkanaragunda, Chief Veterinarian Dr. B.C. Chittiyappa, Veterinarian Dr. Ramesh, ACF D.S. Dayanand, Hon. Wildlife Warden Kruthika Mohan, NTCA representative K.V. Bose, Gram Panchayat representatives and other forest officials arrived at the spot to conduct an inspection.

Following National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) guidelines, a post-mortem was conducted at the site. It was determined that the tiger, approximately five-year-old, likely died after fighting with another tiger. The tiger's carcass was cremated in the presence of senior Forest officials.

Sewage Plant: Flouting tender protocol endangers city's health

Sir,

City-based NGO Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) has raised a significant question regarding the awarding of tender to a Surat-based company with no prior experience in clearing the seven lakh tonnes of solid (legacy) waste accumulated at Vidyaranyapuram Sewage Plant (Tendering process: MGP Members raise concerns, SOM dated June 12).

MGP's concern about the tender being awarded without following the proper protocol has serious implications.

According to tender protocol, the selection is based on an evaluation of information provided by the tenderers, assessed through a questionnaire under specific categories. These categories include: The experience of the firm, list of similar works done, organisational chart, value of work done and personnel and machinery to be deployed

Each member of the tender committee assigns marks for each category. The average of the total marks determines the firm with the highest score, which is then chosen after a thorough discussion in the committee.

The process also requires latest audited report of company. Only when the work is highly specialised and exclusive to a single company with a copyright can a tender be awarded through price negotiation. For all other works, tender protocols must be followed. With an inexperienced firm, as alleged by MGP, residents in surrounding areas of Vidyaranyapuram may have to prepare for a smelly and unhealthy environment ahead.

Destiny... Thy name is Surgery?

By Dr. H.V. Shivaram
Head, Department of Surgery,
Aster CMI Hospital, Bengaluru

There is a message in this article...

Dr. C.G. Narasimhan, well-known Surgeon of our city, forwarded this article about a junior doctor doing his internship in Mysore many years ago and how the then renowned Surgeon of K.R. Hospital Dr. C.B. Murthy saved the intern from losing his right hand from an impending gangrene.

The message is in the title of this article — we are governed by Destiny. That intern doctor has become a famous Surgeon today. —Ed

It was the year 1982, in the month of June, on a Friday evening when I was doing my internship at K.R. Hospital attached to Mysore Medical College. I had my posting at Paediatric Department under Prof. Anke Gowda at Cheluvamba Block.

There was an anaemic child in the ward and I was to get a bottle of blood from the blood bank which was situated behind the Pathology Block. Between these two blocks there was a large vacant space with grass and in the corner there used to be a kitchen where food used to be cooked for the patients. Those were the days when all the menial work used to be the responsibility of the poor "House Surgeon"!

I went to the blood bank, collected the bottle of blood and started walking towards Cheluvamba Block to go to the Paediatric Ward. I was in a hurry and looked at the watch, it was 6 O'clock in the evening. I was thinking that my white coat which I was wearing since a week needed a wash on the weekend.

All of a sudden, a horse which was grazing in the vacant space started chasing me! I was shell shocked and took to my heels to save myself and the blood I was holding in my right hand. To escape from the horse attack I had to enter inside the building. I ran towards Cheluvamba Block with all my youthful strength and energy. But I was not lucky!

The horse was faster than me (naturally)! Just before I could enter Cheluvamba Block, it caught hold of my right lower arm near the elbow with its mouth and started dragging me to the field. Imagine the scenario — me holding the precious blood bottle in my right hand and the horse trying to trample me. I quickly realised that if I fall down I am finished. In the spirit of the moment I gathered all my energy and pushed the horse in the opposite direction holding its right fore leg.

The only thing in my mind was that I should not fall and the blood bottle should not be broken. It was a fight between me and the horse wherein the horse was trying to push me down and I was defending myself pushing the horse all the way back which was now standing on its hind legs. The pain in my arm was now unbearable and my hand was becoming numb and blue! By this time a large onlooker crowd had gathered around and there was a huge commotion. Many of them threw stones at the horse but the horse was not leaving me.

I was told it was a pathetic scene to watch. The scenario was like the one from the famous Hindi movie Satte Pe Satta where the hero fights with a horse, lifting both its fore legs. The entire time the horse, standing on its hind legs, was trying to push me and I was holding its fore leg, trying to push it back. The one thing in my favour was that it was a slightly weaker and older horse and did not have full horse power in it (so to speak)!

I was shouting for help. The crowd pelting stones on the horse did not know what else to do. In the bargain I also received some stones! By all means it was a helpless situation. By this time I had gently dropped the blood bottle on the grass and someone took it to the Paediatric Ward.

Finally it was the presence of mind of an illiterate cook in the neighbouring kitchen which saved the day. He brought a long kitchen knife from his kitchen armamentarium and shoved it into the horse's anus from behind. The horse felt severe pain and it opened its jaws instantly releasing my damaged and crushed arm.

By that time I was totally exhausted. I happened to glance at my watch and it was 6.20 pm and that's all I remembered. I fell unconscious the next second, and my friends and fellow doctors who were helplessly watching immediately took me to the emergency department which used to be called as "Casualty."

I was resuscitated there. My right hand was numb and bluish. When I gained some consciousness I overheard the surgical resident on call discussing over phone with his boss — "Sir there is an intern with a bad crush injury of the right arm due to a horse bite...brachial artery is damaged...he needs above elbow amputation."

I was shell shocked! I looked at my right hand again and again. I was unable to move it. It was bluish and had no sensation. A dressing was decorating my crushed arm.

Within no time I was shifted to the operation theatre in the stone building. My only hope was that it was the call duty day of Prof. C.B. Murthy's unit and he may do his best to save my limb. He was the best surgeon of that time in Mysore and we all respected him very much. He graciously came to the OT for this poor intern's emergency surgery. His plan was to explore the arm under general anaesthesia and check before taking it up for amputation. There was no CT scan or Doppler during those days for pre-operative assessment.

I was told later that on exploration, Prof. Murthy found that the brachial artery had escaped the teeth bite injury of the horse by a millimetre or so and it had gone into severe spasm due to crush injury. There were deep bite marks on the humerus bone! Prof. Murthy wanted to do everything possible to save the limb and he was not in a hurry. He tried vasodilator solution papaverine (how lucky I was — it was readily available in the OT!) and waited for some time. A miracle occurred again for the second time (the first miracle came in the form of the cook).

Gradually the brachial artery spasm was relieved and the colour of the cyanosed hand improved. Everyone in the OT heaved a sigh of relief. When I gained my consciousness I was pleasantly surprised that my right hand was alive and pink. Was it destined to do some surgeries in the future? None knew at that point of time. Not even me.

It was such a strange and bizarre incident that it became big news the next morning. Most of the local newspapers carried the news on the front page. "Mad Horse bites the Doc" was the headline. There was a hot discussion in most of the newspapers (thankfully there were no loud TV news channels those days) that there is no security in the hospital premises and the Medical Superintendent was taken to task.

This newspaper coverage gave me a strange kind of publicity and the public started pouring in to see me in the ward. Suddenly I had become a hero who had fought with a horse and survived. The students of Mysore Medical College were agitated and they went on strike asking for proper security in the hospital premises. The administration promptly erected cattle traps in all the gates and also decided to post some security personnel.

I was in the hospital for a fortnight recovering from my injuries and receiving physiotherapy etc. The worst part was to receive 14 injections of those Anti Rabies Vaccine on the abdominal wall !

Luckily I recovered and my hand became fully functional. And the rest, as they say, is history !

7th Leg of Women's Pro Golf Tour

Mysuru's Vidhatri Urs takes lead on her debut

Mysuru, June 14 (Agencies)- Mysuru golfer Vidhatri Urs, playing her first round as a professional, shot a creditable 1-under 69 to take the lead in the opening round of the seventh leg of the Women's Pro Golf Tour (WPGT) at Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Golf Club (JWGC), here yesterday.

Vidhatri, who has won the WPG Tour in the past as an amateur, had a steady start with 10 pars and then had birdies on the Par-4 11th and Par-3 15th with a bogey in between on the Par-4 13th hole.

She was the only player to shoot under par during the day.

Vidhatri led by two shots over Jasmine Shekar and Ananya Garg, who are looking for their maiden win on the Tour. Jasmine and Ananya shot 1-over 71 each to be tied for the second spot.

Jasmine, who had as many as three runner-up finishes last season and one more this year, put herself in the picture once again with a steady 1-over round that included a birdie on the 14th and bogeys on the 10th and 16th.

Ananya seemed headed for a good solid round with one birdie and no bogeys over her first 10 holes before being hit by three bogeys in a space of four holes between the 11th and the 14th. A late birdie on the 18th was some consolation as she ended at 1-over.

Khushi Khanijau, who had a nightmarish start with four bogeys in the first six holes, did well to recover with three birdies in the next six. A bogey on 17th meant a 72, but was within handshaking distance of those ahead of her.

Anvitha Narender, who like Vidhatri is making her pro debut, was tied eighth with Gauri Karhade, a one-time winner and Astha Madan with a score of 74.

Gaurika Bishnoi, a multiple winner, had a rough day with 73 and was tied fifth with Shweta Mansingh and Rhea Purvi Saravanan, while Sneha Singh, last year's Order of Merit topper, struggled to 75 with one birdie and six bogeys.

Former Hero Women's Indian Open runner-up Amandeep Drall had a worse day with six bogeys and a double before she got her only birdie of the day on the 18th. She shot 77 and was Tied-17th.

Mannat Brar and Saanvi Somu, who have in the past represented India at the Women's Amateur Asia Pacific, were the top amateurs and were tied in 11th place with Sneha Singh, who carded 75.

MP Yaduveer Wadiyar thanks voters, vouches for NR Constituency's development

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar addressing the Thanksgiving programme in Kyathamaranahalli yesterday as NR Constituency BJP President Smart Manju, former Karnataka Exhibition Authority Chairman B.P. Manjunath, ex-Mayor Sandesh Swamy, BJP City General Secretary H.G. Giridhar, ex-Corporator Sathvik Sandesh Swamy and others look on.

Mysuru, June 14 (MK&BS)- Newly elected Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar has vouched to develop Narasimharaja (NR) Assembly Constituency, with a special emphasis, without taking into count the number of votes he polled from the very Assembly segment, that is also located in a close distance of the Palace, in the recent Lok Sabha elections.

Yaduveer was addressing the Thanksgiving programme organised at the premises of Huliyamma Temple in Kyathamaranahalli here, that was attended by the voters and the BJP-JD(S) coalition workers yesterday.

Yaduveer, who paid his obeisance to the Goddess at the Temple, later in his address said "I had launched my campaign trail from the same Huilyamma Temple premises during the elections. Similarly, I wanted to start the Thanksgiving programme from here, which was also a meaningful one. I whole-heartedly thank every voter who extended support by exercising their franchise in large numbers."

"The credit of emerging victorious as National Democratic Alliance (NDA) candidate goes to you all, which I dedicate to the feet of Goddess Chamundeshwari, Kaveramma, Ayodhya Balak Ram and Kyathamaranahalli Huliyamma. It is our prime duty to conserve the tradition of India and everybody should join hands with me to work in unison," appealed Yaduveer Wadiyar.

It is a matter of extreme happiness that Prime Minister Narendra Modi continues to hold the Office for the third term and shall congratulate all for this feat. Besides, Karnataka has got a representation of five MPs in the Union Ministry, which augurs well for the development of the State as well as the country, he added.

Expressing his intent to work for the conservation of Indian tradition, Yaduveer Wadiyar, in his call to the people said "Let us work for the development with a modernistic view without compromising on the heritage significance of Mysuru. Even if you want to converse with me, you are welcome to my Office. The Office is not mine, but of the public."

"During the campaign, many gave negative publicity against me saying I would be staying aloof from people. It is common in politics, but there are instances of Maharajas in those days, who though confined to Palace, initiated many development works. I will be replicating them and work with the same philosophy," he said.

Former Mayor Sandesh Swamy appealed Yaduveer Wadiyar, on behalf of the voters, to create a new history in NR Constituency, by initiating development works. NR is one of the most backward Assembly Constituencies in the State, as reported by the Government itself. The elections here are mostly caste-oriented, but I had prayed to Goddess Huliyamma, for the victory of Yaduveer, so that the Constituency witnesses development like other Constituencies. With the blessings of the Goddess, Yaduveer has now become a MP, added Swamy.

Earlier, Yaduveer was accorded a grand welcome on his arrival at Huliyamma Temple, with people bursting fire crackers and beating the drums. Several womenfolk performed arathi.

Starting from Huliyamma Temple premises, Yaduveer went on a Thanksgiving-spree, covering Mahadeshwara Temple in K.N. Pura, Bhagya Jyothi School, Chamundeshwari Temple, Maaramma Temple, Raghavendranagar, Gayathripuram, Pourakarmika Colony, Yaraganahalli, Maruthi Circle, Ganesh Nagar, Karimaramma Temple, Kurimandi, 1008 Ganapathi Temple, Someshwara Temple, Bannimantap, Gandhinagar Temple and Veerangere Ganapathi Temple.

Former KEA Chairmen B.P. Manjunath and Hemanth Kumar Gowda, NR Constituency BJP President Smart Manju, Secretary Manju C. Gowda, leaders Usha Narayanappa, Bhanuprakash, Shivakumar and others were present.

Like Babruvahana...

Like in the yesteryear hit Kannada film 'Babruvahana,' in which Babruvahana reins in the Ashwamedha horse let off by Arjuna and wins the battle against the latter, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's Government had also released a horse. Yaduveer, who successfully tamed the horse, is now standing before us, after winning the battle. NR Assembly Constituency is devoid of any basic amenities with no proper schools and colleges and plans in the interest of children's welfare in the future. I appeal to the new MP to develop this Constituency.

—Sandesh Swamy, former Mayor

HSRP deadline: HC allows Government to decide

Bengaluru, June 14 (Agencies)- The Karnataka High Court on June 12 has permitted the State Government to decide on extending the deadline for affixing High Security Registration Plates (HSRP) on vehicles.

A Division Bench comprising Chief Justice N.V. Anjaria and Justice K.V. Aravind issued an order modifying the earlier order passed by a Vacation Division Bench on May 21, 2024. The Bench directed the Government to present its decision before the Court.

Additionally, the Court extended the order restraining the Government from taking any precipitative action in the matter until the next hearing.

The State Government informed the Court that it is considering extending the HSRP deadline until September. Following this submission, the Bench granted the Government permission to issue a notification for the deadline extension by modifying its May 21 interim order, which had directed that "the State would not take any further precipitative steps/action/decision in the matter relating to and regarding fixation of HSRP to vehicles till June 12."

While allowing the Government to make a decision and issue a notification for the deadline extension, the Bench instructed it not to take any further precipitative action.

The Government issued the initial notification on Aug. 17, 2023, regarding the affixing of HSRPs and has extended the deadline twice. The most recent extension (May 31, 2024) was based on the notification issued on Feb. 16, 2024.

The HSRP Manufacturers' Association of India and others challenged the Transport Department's decision to entrust the Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEM) with affixing the HSRP and authorising manufacturers to support the implementation, similar to the statutory procedure adopted for new vehicles.

Mysuru, June 14 (PM&DM)- Observing that freedom fighter Yashodhara Dasappa was a woman of steel and was an inspiration to the entire women community, veteran littérateur Dr. C.P. Krishnakumar (CPK) said her life was full of struggles for the cause of independence.

He was speaking after releasing writer S. Prakash Babu's work 'Karnatakada Modala Mahila Mantri Ukkina Mahile Yasodhara Dasappa' (an autobiography) at the 120th birth anniversary celebrations of Yashodhara Dasappa, organised jointly by the city's Negilayogi Mahileyara Kshemabhivruddhi Sangha and Negilayogi Samaja Seva Trust, at Negilayogi Maruleshwara Seva Bhavan, in Jayanagar (Malalawadi) here yesterday.

Nijalingappa Cabinet, she had demanded introduction of Liquor Prohibition Act. But as the Government did not enforce the Act, she resigned from the Cabinet in protest, which shows her commitment to the society's welfare.

"It would not be an exaggeration to say that Yashodhara was a great woman (Maha Mahile) who achieved big in social and political arenas in the history of Modern Karnataka. She was involved in freedom struggle and also took part in Shivapura Satyagraha", he said adding that such charismatic and honest political leaders like her cannot be seen these days.

Street vendor numbers double

Officers said that after the process of distributing QR-code-GPS-enabled identity cards, the street vendors will be shifted to designated vending zones so that footpaths are freed from clutter. This will also ensure smooth traffic flow, they added. Those street vendors who do not have identity cards and trade certificates will be evicted with the help of the Police. These initiatives aim to create a more organised and supportive environment for street vendors, ensuring their protection and the regulation of their trade.

Task Force Committee

Following the Karnataka Street Vendors (Protection of Livelihood and Regulation of Street. Vending) Rules, 2019, the MCC has constituted a Task Force Committee under the Chairmanship of the Commissioner. This initiative is part of a broader effort to safeguard the livelihoods of street vendors and regulate their trade within the city.

The Task Force Committee has been formed with the respective Zonal Commissioners from Zonal Offices 01 to 09. It also includes Development Officers, Traffic Police Inspectors, Environmental Engineers, Health Inspectors, Revenue Inspectors and Community Organisers.

The responsibilities of the Committee include issuing identity cards and trade certificates and ensuring compliance with their terms and conditions. It will oversee the relocation of street vendors, compliance with rules for goods seizure, disposal and eviction and actions to identify, create and manage business zones.

The committee will verify vendor operations within designated zones, prepare area maps and allocate land for government-approved marketing zones. It will rectify identity card and trade certificate issues and prevent their misuse, addressing any illegal business practices discovered during issuance.

A Grievance Redressal Committee, chaired by Retired District and Sessions Judge H.Y. Vasanth Kumar, will regularly hear street vendors' grievances and recommend solutions.

An Appellate Committee, chaired by the Mayor and including two members nominated by the general body, allows street vendors to appeal Grievance Redressal Committee decisions.

To facilitate seamless operation and implementation of the committee's decisions, an office has been established at Sewage Farm, Vidyaranyapuram. This office is equipped with all essential amenities to support the functioning of both Task Force Committee and Grievance Redressal Committee.

Parents accuse Education Dept. of rendering injustice to their daughter

Mysuru, June 14 (GA&DM)- The parents of a girl student have alleged that their daughter's SSLC answer sheet was wrongly evaluated by teachers and that the School Education and Literacy Department has rendered injustice to her.

Addressing a press meet here recently, Suma Chandrashekar of Kodagalli village in Bannur Hobli of T. Narasipur taluk said that her daughter K.S. Shravya is facing a lot of difficulties in getting a seat for PUC course in city colleges, despite getting good marks in SSLC.

Pointing out that her daughter Shravya, who studied at Jeevodaya School in Arakere, had scored 545 marks in SSLC when the results were declared, Suma said her daughter applied for revaluation as she was not satisfied with the results as she had performed much better. "My daughter got 606 marks after revaluation, scoring 94 marks in Maths (53 previously) and 95 in Science (75 previously).

As Shravya decided to apply for PUC only after revaluation, she waited eagerly for revaluation result. But as she went to apply for PUC soon after getting the revaluation marks, all the colleges shut their doors for her saying that the admissions had got over. All this is because of the lapses on the part of the evaluators who played havoc with the life of a student", she said adding that the Education Department should come to the rescue of her daughter and thus render justice to her.

The student Shravya, her father K.N. Srinivas and uncle Rajendra Prasad Honnalagere were present at the press meet.

Investigating Officer in Darshan case replaced

Tent cloth used to cover Police Station where all accused are being questioned

Bengaluru, June 14 (Agencies)- Amid the ongoing murder case involving Kannada film star Darshan Thoogudeepa and his associates, the Karnataka Police reassigned the Investigation Officer (IO) yesterday, raising eyebrows.

Darshan

Kamakshipalya Police Inspector Girish Nayak has been transferred, with his superior, Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) Chandan Gowda, now taking over as the IO in this high-profile case. The case has garnered widespread attention due to the popular actor's involvement and the crime's nature.

A senior Police Officer stated that the transfer was a routine procedure. "Nayak was posted at the Kamakshipalya Station due to the elections. With the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) no longer in effect, he has been returned to his original station. For continuity, ACP Gowda, who has been overseeing the case, has now been appointed the IO," the Officer explained.

This reassignment comes days after Darshan and several of his aides were arrested and remanded to six days of Police custody in connection with the murder of Renukaswamy, who was allegedly tortured and killed at the Pattanagere shed.

Meanwhile, the Police covering the Annapoorneshwari Nagar Station, where actor Darshan and others are being interrogated in connection with the murder case, by using tent cloth, raised suspicions . The station was covered with tent cloth to avoid media and public attention after some visuals from inside went viral. Although Police stations are generally kept open for 24 hours, the gates of this one were locked on Thursday morning.

"The visuals telecast by news channels impeded investigations. Seeing media persons outside the Police station, people may gather there, assuming that Darshan might come out. This case demands significant effort, forethought and resources," a senior Police Officer stated.

Ban orders

The Bengaluru authorities have also imposed prohibitory orders under Section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Cr. PC) around the Police Station. The orders, effective from June 13 to June 17, restrict gatherings within a 200-metre radius of the Police station. The Police custody of all the accused will end next Monday. The decision to impose these restrictions was taken after fans created disturbances by shouting slogans in support of Darshan. Despite additional Police forces being deployed to manage the situation, the numbers continued to grow, prompting the need for stricter measures.

Darshan, aides grilled

As the investigation into the case continues, a team has questioned Darshan, while another team was deployed to collect evidence from the parking lot where the murder took place. The accused were reportedly provided rice and sambar for dinner yesterday and their questioning continued till late into the night.

"We have also verified the call details from the victim's phone. It shows that, the last three calls were made by Raghavendra, a member of Darshan's fan association. The last call lasted for a few seconds. Since then, all calls went unanswered," said a senior officer.

"We are multi-tasking in terms of collecting information and evidence. We may need certain urgent information from the accused to take action elsewhere. For someone inexperienced in investigative matters, this may appear as mischief, but in reality, it is not," the officer added.

Taxi driver surrenders

Meanwhile, the eighth accused in the murder case surrendered before the Chitradurga Police on Thursday evening. The accused has been identified as Ravi, a taxi driver from Kurubarahatti village in Chitradurga district.

He was hired by the Chitradurga district Darshan Fans' Association president and accused No. 4, Raghavendra, along with Jagadish, to take Renukaswamy to Bengaluru.

However, after reaching Kunchiganal, Renukaswamy was shifted to another car and taken to Bengaluru.

Why cover Police Station? Are we in a conflict zone, asks R. Ashoka

Bengaluru, June 13 (UNI) Karnataka Leader of the Opposition R. Ashoka yesterday flayed the State Government's handling of the murder case involving Kannada actor Darshan and his associates.

R. Ashoka

Ashoka condemned the Government's failure to maintain law and order, questioning the need for a 'Shamiyana' or tent in front of the Annapoorneshwari Nagar Police Station. "Are we living in a conflict zone like Kashmir, or is Karnataka now a border area? Don't our State Police have the capability to investigate a straightforward murder case?" he asked.

Ashoka stressed that no one is above the law and labelled the incident a blemish on the film industry. "Renukaswamy had no criminal background. Action must be taken against those responsible," he asserted.

Former Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai echoed Ashoka's sentiments, underscoring the importance of equal treatment under the law and a thorough investigation.

"It is a serious case, and officials must conduct a thorough and impartial probe till the accused are punished. No one must behave in an inhumane manner. Whether in power or a celebrity, none have special privileges. All were equal before the law. Taking the law into one's hands was a crime. When it escalates to the level of murder, the case must be taken seriously," insisted Bommai.

The senior BJP leader called for a rigorous investigation into the alleged involvement of Kannada film actor Darshan Thoogudeepa.

Counter-complaint by prime accused

Move just before heading to jail; blames wife, deceased brother-in-law for feud

Mysuru, June 14 (KS)- Ravichandra, the prime accused in the fatal stabbing of his brother-in-law at his residence in Ramakrishnanagar 'I' Block on June 8, has filed a counter-complaint against four individuals, including his deceased brother-in-law, before being taken into custody on Wednesday.

Ravichandra
Accused

Abhishek
Deceased

Ravichandra stands accused of fatally stabbing Abhishek, his wife Vidya's brother from Koorgalli. Additionally, Ravichandra's brother Kumar, mother Sharada, relative Padma, and her son Karthik have also been implicated in the case.

Allegedly, while Ravichandra stabbed Abhishek, the others are accused of assaulting him while he was on the ground, in a pool of blood. The incident also resulted in severe injuries to Abhishek's friend Gautham, who was also assaulted.

Following the altercation, Ravichandra, claiming to have sustained injuries during the incident, was admitted to a private hospital in the city. After his discharge, he was promptly arrested on Wednesday.

The Police had initiated a Medico-Legal Case (MLC) on the day of the incident, and they have registered a case against the deceased Abhishek, his friend Gautham, sister Vidya, and mother Bhagya based on Ravichandra's complaint.

Ravichandra was subsequently produced before the Court and remanded to judicial custody.

Complaint and counter-complaint

Abhishek and his mother Bhagya reportedly visited Vidya's residence in Ramakrishnanagar 'I' Block on June 8 after learning that Vidya was allegedly being mistreated by her husband and his family members. They were met with assault by Ravichandra and his family.

After initially leaving the premises and returning home, Abhishek received further news about Vidya's distressing situation. He, along with friends Gautham and Kaushik, returned to Vidya's house to bring her back.

It was during this visit that Ravichandra allegedly stabbed Abhishek, resulting in his fatal injuries. Gautham, attempting to intervene, was also assaulted and subsequently hospitalised.

Following the incident, a complaint was lodged against Ravichandra and his family members at Kuvempunagar Police Station. In turn, Ravichandra filed a counter-complaint with the Police.

In his statement, Ravichandra asserted that he and Vidya had been married for four-and-a-half years and had a three-year-old child. He cited ongoing marital disputes that allegedly escalated into physical altercations, despite attempts to resolve differences with the involvement of elders.

Ravichandra's complaint further alleged that Vidya frequently quarrelled over trivial matters, verbally abused his mother and brother, and on the day of the incident, threatened to involve her brother. According to Ravichandra, Abhishek, along with Gautham and Kaushik, arrived at their home and instigated a physical confrontation, resulting in mutual assault.

Pregnant woman ends life

Mysuru, June 14 (MK&KS)- A two-month pregnant woman allegedly committed suicide by hanging herself at her residence in Manasinagar yesterday afternoon. The deceased, identified as Sowmyashree (24), originally from Bengaluru, had been married to Manjunath of Manasinagar in the city for seven months.

According to reports, Sowmyashree took this extreme step while her family members were away. The motive behind her decision is currently unknown. Mysuru South (Rural) Police arrived at the scene, conducted an investigation, registered a case, and subsequently moved the body to the MMC&RI mortuary for post-mortem examination.

WORD OF THE DAY

Lodestone

Pronunciation: LOHD-stohn (Noun)
Meaning: Lodestone refers to mineral magnetite, a magnetic iron ore. Lodestone is also used figuratively to refer to something that, like a magnet, strongly attracts things.
Origin: The word lodestone is sometimes confused, understandably, with the similar-sounding lodestar. Both combine lode, which comes from the Old English noun lād, meaning "course," with another word with ancient Old English roots: stone (from stān) and star (from steorra), respectively. Both lodestone and lodestar also refer to things — both literal and figurative — with the power to inspire or compel movement. But while a lodestar is something that leads the way (example, a moral principle that guides a person through life), a lodestone draws things toward itself. Sometimes lodestone refers to an actual magnet; indeed, its original use in the early 16th century was as a synonym for magnetite. But it didn't take long for lodestone to attract a metaphorical sense. Today a business district might be a lodestone for entrepreneurs, or a lottery-playing friend (with the promise of riches as their lodestar) a lodestone — they hope — for good luck.
Example: "Her [Britney Spears'] quest to please a growing constituency was a savvy balancing act; she understood what was expected of a teen star at the time: family-friendly entertainment that didn't rock anyone's boat. ... Spears handled this feat impressively well in those years. She became a vessel for our intense emotions, but in the process, she would also become a lodestone for criticism of an entire generation's tastes and habits." — Craig Jenkins, Vulture, 17 Feb. 2021

THE ODD WORD

Psithurism

The sound of rustling leaves.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Meme

Meaning: An idea or behaviour that is passed from one individual to another by imitation or other non-genetic means.
Origin: The modern meaning of the term 'Meme' was coined by Richard Dawkins, who referred to the non-genetic parts of the culture that are transferred between individuals. The term originated from the Greek word 'Mimeme' which means 'to imitate', and was modelled on the word 'Gene'.
Example: Meme racked up thousands of likes & replies in a matter of days.
